" Bath " " $3 50 } And found.
Deck Passengers, $2 00 }

The NEW ENGLAND is 3½ years old 173 feet long, and 307 tons burthen. During the past winter she has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, and the proprietors have spared neither pains nor expense to render her in all respects worthy of public confidence. That she is the fastest boat on the eastern coast is now universally admitted, and her superiority as a sea-boat has been fully proved

Travellers from the eastern part of Maine to Boston and from Boston eastward, will find this route in many respects preferable to any other The mail stages from Bangor and Belfast arrive before the departure of the boat; and the boat arrives at Gardiner on her return passages from three to six hours before the departure of the eastern stages; thus affording travellers an opportunity of spending several hours in Gardiner, Hallowell and Augusta

GREGORY'S & JAQUITH'S TRUSS.

A NEWLY invented Truss is now presented to the public combining in a more convenient form, the advantage of all previous ones It brings with it the recommendation of very many distinguished surgeons and physicians who have examined it For the ease with which it is worn facility of graduating the pressure upon the hernia, and security in retaining it in its place, it is confidently recommended to all interested in such things as superior to all other trusses By employing various forms of the hard or elastic rupture pad, as prospect of radical cure, or immunity from recurrence only may indicate the instrument becomes adapted to all forms of hernia All persons requiring Trusses are respectfully invited to call and examine these at MANN & SNOW'S Apothecary Store, No 14 Main street, Bangor

Among the numerous certificates in possession of the agents and proprietors, only the following is offered there.

BANGOR, July 8, 1837.

This may certify that I procured of Mr J S Gregory, one of his Trusses after making trial of it with the privilege of returning if it did not suit I laid aside a common (Marsh's) Truss and find this is the easiest and most effectual to retain the Hernia I have ever tried From the trial I have made of this truss, I would recommend it to all afflicted with a rupture (Signed) EDWARD HOYT

Reference to the following physicians is kindly permitted Dr Rich, Dr Dickinson, Dr Dean, Dr Bartlett, Dr McRuer, Dr Cushing, Dr Proctor

N B Any person purchasing one of the above Trusses and find that the one bought will not fit and answer the purpose it is intended, it will be exchanged for another or the price refunded at any time within four days 3m law d&w aug11

NEW-ENGLAND HOUSE,
BANGOR, MAINE

THE Subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public that he has removed from the Franklin House to the new and elegant house lately erected at the corner of Harlow and Franklin-streets, about six rods north of the Franklin House. He tenders his sincere thanks to the public for their liberal patronage last year at the Franklin House, and solicits the continuation of it in his present situation, pledging himself to attend personally to the wants of those who may call on him, and employing none but good and faithful servants He will endeavor to make his house equal to any in this city The New England House is much larger than the Franklin House, which enables him to accommodate a much larger company than he could in his former situation. There is a stable attached to the House, furnished with the best of hay and grain Ostlers equal to any in the State Also Horses and Carriages of all descriptions, for the accommodation of those who may wish to hire. A Carriage will always be in readiness to take passengers to and from the boat

N B Seats will be secured in all the lines of stages leaving this city

NewspaperARCHIVE®

BANGOR,

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 15, 1837.

THE EMPIRE STATE.

Our papers are yet filled with accounts of the glorious result of the New York Election. "Steamboat disasters," "distressing accidents" and "audacious piracies," are excluded to make room for the details of the most glorious, because (as far as heard from) the most complete "ballot box revolution," in the recorded elections of this country. From Buffalo to Sandy Hook, success, unqualified success, seems to have crowned the efforts of the Whigs. They have achieved victory after victory, from the "Lakes" to the "Sound," until the ranks of their once powerful opponents and oppressors, are reduced to the fragment of a fragment beneath contempt.

Not one half the returns have been received, but such is the decisive character of the votes in every county, district and town, that has been heard from, that there is scarce a doubt that the most extravagant calculations of the full vote can hardly exceed the truth. Instead of the THIRTY-FIVE THOUSAND WHIG GAIN, of which we spoke yesterday—the Whigs have gained not far from FIFTY THOUSAND VOTES since the Presidential election.

At our last dates, the general belief, from the aspect of the returns, was not only that the Whigs had carried the State with an overwhelming majority—but that they had succeeded in electing the ENTIRE SENATORIAL TICKET.

Of the members of the Assembly, in the Counties from which sufficient returns are in to render certain the result, last year THIRTY-THREE were Van Buren and EIGHT were Whigs. This year Whigs have elected the WHOLE FORTY ONE!! The partial returns from other Counties, exhibit the same wonderful change. But if all the other counties should go as they did at the last election, the Whigs would have a majority of THIRTY-SIX in the Assembly, instead of last year's majority of SIXTY against them.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

THE MISSING VOTES.

In your paper of Saturday, you published the "Official" list of places from which no return of votes had been received at the office of the Secretary of State. There is a law of this State, imposing the duty of making such publication on the Secretary. No man of ordinary intelligence but will smile at the ignorance betrayed by the Secretary, in this "Official" list. Let me inform that officer that by looking at the files in his office, he will find that "No. 4, East of Penobscot River," was incorporated into the town of Bradley, by an act passed Feb. 3, 1835, and the votes were returned last year under that name. The Secretary too will find by looking a little farther that "Andover West surplus," and "letter A, number two," was annexed to the town of Newry, by an act passed March 20, 1837. The town of Mayfield he puts down in Penobscot County. This town was incorporated March 7, 1836, and was township No. 2, in 2d Range in Bingham's purchase in Somerset County where it now remains.

What is more ridiculous still is that the Secretary has not yet learned the fact that the plantations of "Haynesville," "Bowerbank, &c.," have always given in their votes in the next adjoining town and the same have been returned in this mode to the Secretary of State's office. This was the case last year, and so this.

It may not be generally known that measures have been taken in this city to get from the clerks in every town in the state, a certificate of the Record of the votes for Governor, Senators, and representatives. By our returns it appears that the votes of Haynesville were received in the town of Linneus, and were for Edward Kent, 2 for Gorham Parks, 0

"Township A," gave in its votes in the town of Linneus Kent, 0 Parks, 4

The votes of "Bowerbank Plantation," were given in the town of Sebec

Kent 12 Parks, 4

"No. 6, East of Springfield," gave in its votes in Springfield 14 for Kent, Parks, 10

"East Cold Stream" gave in its votes in Springfield, too 11 for Kent, Parks, 0

The votes of these several places mentioned are sealed up under cover with the votes in the towns where the votes were given in.

As yet, no returns have been received from the town of Madawaska. As the Age, is the "official," and "has ascertained beyond a doubt, the precise state of the vote," in "about every case" will they inform us what the vote of Madawaska is.

As soon as returns are received from every town, a table of the vote throughout the State will be published.

Meanwhile, however, here are some specimens of the accuracy of the Age in its table published Oct. 4.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

MISSISSIPPI IRON COMPANY, AND CITIES AGAIN.

My object in the following communication is not to injure the success of this Company, or the growth of their paper cities, but rather to show the extreme absurdity of the whole affair as it now stands. Notwithstanding Yankee credulity, as well as Yankee shrewdness, has become proverbial; and a disgrace to the whole American people, notwithstanding the perfect ease with which they are gulled, and their passion for every thing that savors of humbug, yet it seems to me, indeed I am persuaded, the absurdity in this case is so apparent, that not even Yankees themselves will swallow the bait or be caught by so silly an artifice. We may well be amused, however, at the sang-froid and the assurance exhibited by the members of this Company and the founders of these cities. Against the Iron Mountains themselves, naked and alone, I have not one word to say. What I have to say about them, not in their favor, is only so, in so far as it relates to the proceedings of the Company, their prospectus, &c.

These mountains were first examined by a scientific observer, Mr. Featherstonhaugh, in 1835, who in his report to Congress, speaking of the principal of these, says: "Upon a mound sparingly covered with trees, I observed a vein-like mass of submagnetic iron, having a bright metallic fracture, of a steel gray color. This vein was about one hundred and fifty feet above the surface of the adjacent plain; and at the surface had the appearance of being roughly paved with black pebbles of iron, from one to twenty pounds weight. Beneath the surface it appeared to be a solid mass. I measured the vein from east to west full 500 feet and traced it North and South 1000 feet, until it was covered with the superficial soil. Unusual as is the magnitude of the superficial cubic contents of this vein, (950,000 feet) yet it must be insignificant to the subterranean quantity. This extraordinary phenomenon filled me with admiration. Here was a single locality of iron, offering all the resources of Sweeden, and while it was impossible to estimate the value by any other terms than those of a nation's wants." Another writer, Dr. May, speaking of the "Iron Mountain," and "Pilot Knob," makes use of the following language: "Each consists of masses of iron ore, (the micacious oxide) of an exceedingly rich quality, and in such abundance that millions of tons of iron may be made without any sensible diminution of the quantity." Again it is called "one of the most extraordinary curiosities in the world;" and the same writer says "it is about one mile at the base, 350 or 400 feet high, and three miles long, literally covered with a bright, shining ore, actually having every appearance of metal which has been smelted. At the base of the mountain, the ore is in pieces from the size of one pound weight upwards; and as you approach the apex of the hill, the pieces increase in size to thousands of tons weight; until they assume the appearance of rocks, presenting to the astonished beholder a spectacle which cannot be described; and these large masses are of a quality surpassing any thing of the kind heretofore known to the world. Six miles South is another mountain, larger than the one above, known by the name of the Pilot Knob. It is entirely covered with iron ore, in huge masses, larger and more abundant than the former."

Another writer uses the following language: "The Iron Mountain, at the base of which, in a beautiful plain, it is proposed to rear "Missouri City," the future seat of science and the literary institutions of the State, lies 80 miles in a South West direction from St. Louis, and 40 miles to the point of the Missississippi river from whence the projected railroad chartered by the last Legislature is to run, and at which point it is proposed to establish the "Iron Mountain City, or a manufacturing point, the future Birmingham of America."

The testimony of another, Gen. A. Jones is to this effect: "We have, in what is called the mineral region, a mountain of iron ore which is three miles in length, and its average width one mile. This mountain presents at one glance of the eye, more iron ore than all the furnaces in the United States could use in one thousand years. A gentleman and iron-master, when on the mountain, was asked his opinion in relation to the quantity of ore, he replied, 'I see—on the surface more iron ore than one hundred thousand furnaces could manufacture in one thousand years.'"

So much for these mountains. And now for the modest "prospectus" of the Company, and some of their mathematical deductions. Had their promises been tenable, their conclusions might have been astonishing, but not ludicrous or absurd. Predicated, however, as they have been, on data altogether perspective, and depending on fortuitous circumstances, and a great variety of causes which cannot be taken into account, in what other light can we consider them? How, for instance, are sensible, considerate men to understand the following language otherwise than as coming from knaves or fools, or from those who esteem all other men only as fit subjects of their cupidity? "The Iron Mountains with ore almost as pure as native iron, and in such abundance on the surface of the mountain as to supply the whole union till the end of time, are placed in the very centre of the transportation of the whole Mississippi valley." Of Missouri City, they say it has been located and laid out with special reference to its becoming a pleasant retreat for the lovers of literature, the gentleman of leisure and fortune, and the parent or guardian who may seek retirement, good society and institutions of education for his children." "In planning the city plot, the [illegible] say they," the university was situated in the centre of the town, so that it might be convenient of access to all parts, and still surrounded with some sixty two public parks." "Missouri City University will receive an endowment from the Missouri Iron Company, which in successful operation, of $75,000 a year, for nearly half a century." But I forbear, enough having already been said, for my purpose.

It is certain, indeed there is prima facia evidence on every page, that the Company's prospectus was compiled by some agent or agents at a distance, who knew little, or really nothing truly of the affair. Their contradictions make them appear in a very ludicrous light. However, they shall be allowed to take the stand and speak for themselves. In one place they say the country is "remarkably level," and that "grading (for a rail road) will cost but little more than through a plain" and in another, "at least two thirds of this country is too hilly and broken for cultivation," and "the country for some twenty miles in every direction is beautifully diversified with hills, isolated mountains, valleys and table lands." Again, "timber is found in abundance," and "the whole region, for at least fifty miles in every direction from the iron mountain, is heavily timbered, thereby affording wood-coal in any quantity, at three or four cents a bushel" and as an antithesis to this, (for each of their assertions seems to suppose an antithesis) they speak of a beautiful open campaign country, extending for many miles." and say, "the town plot is thinly covered with forest trees, with little or no under-wood, and well set in native grass." They lay great stress upon "the extensive pineries in the mineral regions," and assert that they are absolutely inexhaustible, or at any rate, so nearly so that the transportation of pine lumber alone, (from them) will justify their constructing a rail road from sixty to eighty miles, over the "hilly and broken" "plain" intermediate between them and the Mississippi.

On the strength of these iron mountains, the exhaustless "pineries" of the "open campaign country," and some other minor considerations, such as an abundance of broken "flint stones, most suitable for Macadamizing streets" and turnpikes, a large number of beautifully laid out house lots, which they are going to sell at high prices, &c. The proprietors have already (perspectively, be it remembered) built two mighty cities, constructed one railroad, more than one thousand miles in length, over a vast, solitary, and barren plain, to Sante Fe; another commencing on the west bank of the Mississippi, and passing through Missouri City to Jefferson City, and thence north for many hundred miles, to the falls of St. Anthony; and a third, 3 or 400 miles in length in a S. W. direction, to the great and flourishing nation of "Kickapoos." These, and many others of a like nature, are some of the magnificent schemes of the proprietors. Minds that can conceive and entertain such stupendous projects, should most certainly command the grateful homage and reverence of such inferior beings as we are.

This country is called fertile; but this is as wide of the truth as a "hilly, broken country" is from being a "plain," or an "open campaign country" from being "heavily timbered." The soil is generally of a deep red color, argillaceous, and containing a very large proportion of oxide of iron. In the Autumn, Winter and Spring, it becomes saturated with the heavy rains, when it is soft, miry, and is nearly impassible even to the equestrian. In the small towns of that neighborhood, I actually found the clay [illegible] more than a foot deep, and of so adhesive a nature that in the most public streets my horse found great difficulty in making his way. To be sure, the settler gains a scanty subsistence—but it is too scanty for any "well conditioned" man in New England. Heavy primeval forests may once have waived their giant limbs, and cast an eternal shadow on these hills and plains though a far different state of things obtained in their stead when I was there. Trees are now remarkably scattering, and even in the densest forest, a species of prairie grass, indigenous to such a soil, every where abounds. As yet, there are no very large prairies in that part of the State, but it is evident that, sooner or later, the fires that annually run through the forests, fed by this thick prairie grass, are constantly destroying the timber and producing extensive prairies. Although much of the country is covered with small scrub oaks, eight or ten feet high, (and particularly mineral regions) giving it a most dreary and mountainous appearance. These oak barens, as they are called, are the remains of a once noble forest; and the greater part of the country seems to be tending to the same result.

Little more than a year and half ago, when I passed through that part of Missouri, the famous Company and Cities which have since made so much noise in the world, were entirely unknown to fame. The Company was not formed and the cities were without inhabitants, or if they had any, like the speckled pig, they frisked about so that they could not be counted. As I did not see any inhabitants, or even any cities there, with my bodily eyes, I have at least good reason to conclude that they have really no physical existence that the cities have only a figurative existence, and are peopled by some of Milton's "spiritual creatures," that "walk the earth unseen." But I have done, and will only further say, that there is very little pine timber in the mineral districts that instead of "sparkling springs, and streams of purest water," their streams are generally turbid and their water bad that the face of the country is very broken and hilly, and that fever and ague and other diseases of the West, are common in that part of the State of Missouri.

CANDOR.

We found a communication on our table yesterday upon the subject of the "Missouri Iron Company and Cities," in which the writer opposes our correspondent, "Irony," and on the respondent of to-day over the signature of "Candor," in the view he has taken of that subject. We have no objection to publishing the arguments upon both sides, if we are previously acquainted of the source from which they proceed.

We take the following specimen of gentlemanly wit from the Eastern Republican. We suspect the different, and hitherto discordant, factions of the "Party," are coming together, since the Republican has adopted the style of the Loco Foco organ in this city. Par nobile fratrum!

"People feel some curiosity to know who at present so gracefully fills the chair vacated by Mr Marchant. Some say it is our good natured Mayor and Governor expectant; others think the luminous and elaborate editorials are written by "Quosque, Tandem, & Co." or "Squash, Cabbage, & Co." others, that the paper is nursed by the "three distinguished gentlemen," the trio that went to Kennebec; others that the child lives on charity, from hand to mouth. We don't know much about it.

THE MISSISSIPPI REPRESENTATIVES. The following paragraph, from the Vicksburg Register, shows the course which the Whigs of Mississippi propose to pursue in relation to the election of Representatives.

Claiborne and Gholson. These gentlemen have been admitted to their seats for the entire term of the 25th Congress. They inform us, as appears from the Columbia Democrat, that they "will not resign." We reserve further comments for the present. The people of Mississippi will ultimately render their verdict upon this flagitious violation of their will, of Republican principles, and the obligations which these gentlemen are under to their constituents. We shall support our candidates, whatever course may be taken by "the party." Whether the State of Mississippi is to be debarred of a Whig representation in Congress by usurpation, or, not, one thing is certain, a just verdict will be rendered. If the party wire workers shall determine not to run their candidates, who DARE NOT submit their claims to the judgement of the people, we will run ours, and whether they are elected with or without opposition, the question may be further tested between the Whig representatives of the people and the gentlemen who will then hold their seats, without the sanction of the people of the State, by virtue of the decision of the House of Representatives. Let every Whig go to the polls and support his principles. The true Representatives of the State will claim their seats at the next session. Whether their opponents run or not, it is important that we should give them a vote which will make them heard, and fix the seal of just reprobation upon the determination of the present incumbents to retain their seats unauthorized by the votes of the people of Mississippi.

From the New Orleans Bulletin.

DISTRESSING INCIDENT THREE HUNDRED LIVES LOST.

Nov 3. Another dreadful accident has occurred upon our waters, which have lately become the scene of so many heart rending and appalling catastrophes. The steamer Monmouth left this port about a week since, laden with several hundred Indians, a portion of the emigrant Creek tribe, as passengers. In travelling up the Mississippi, through prophet island Bend, she was met by the ship Trenton, in tow by the steamer Warren, ascending the river. It was after dark, being near eight o clock at night, and through the mismanagement of the officers, and the obscurity of the scene, a collision took place between the meeting vessels, and the Monmouth immediately sunk from the violence of the concussion. Out of the large number of Indians on board, near three hundred perished. Whether any of the crew were saved or not, we have not learned. The mishap is ascribed chiefly to the neglect of the officers of the Monmouth. She was running in a part of the stream, where, by the usages of the river, and the rules of the Mississippi navigation, she had no right to go, and where, of course, the descending tow did not expect to meet her. Here is another evidence of the gross carlessness of a class of men to whose charge we often commit our personal safety and precious lives.

Another Account. Steamer Monmouth, hence for Arkansas river, run into the ship Tremont, (in tow of steamer Warren,) on the morning of 31st Oct. at 8 o'clock, in the Prophet Island Bend, and immediately sunk. The cabin of the boat parted from the hull, and drifted some distance down stream, when it broke into two parts and emptied its contents into the river. There were 611 Indians on board the M., only 300 of whom were rescued by the crews of the Warren and Yazoo. The ship lost her cut-water. The barkeeper and a fireman were the only persons attached to the M. who lost their lives.

RIOT AT MONTREAL. The Montreal Herald of Tuesday last gives a long account of disturbances there, caused by a contemplated procession of the "Sons of Liberty"; 250 mustering in Great St. James street made an unprovoked attack upon some loyalists who were quietly looking on—fired two pistols, which did no mischief—pounded sundry individuals—and chased others through the streets, breaking the windows of loyal houses as they passed along. The loyalists, however, took their turn, having received large reinforcements, but at sight thereof the "Sons" dispersed. The riot act was read, and the royal regiment was ordered out to parade the streets, supported by the artillery, but nothing happened to give them employment. About 6 o'clock the loyalists attempted an attack on the house of Mr Papineau but were restrained (not easily) by their leaders. The office of the Vindicator they would not spare—the types, paper, and every thing moveable, were thrown into the street. Magistrates with troops, were stationed during the night at various points, but nothing further happened.

DIED.

NEW AND VALUABLE SCHOOL BOOK!
THE attention of School Committees, Teachers and Parents is invited to the examination of the "JUVENILE REVIEW," a selection of easy Reading Lessons, by a Teacher a new edition of which revised and corrected, we have just published It is believed that the book is one which has been very much wanted in our common schools, and indeed it was compiled at the request of many of our best Teachers. The compiler is a gentleman of known abilities and long experience in his profession The pieces in this book, are chiefly selected from popular works designed for youth and it is believed, will have a healthy moral influence in those schools in which it is adopted The book comes at a very low price and has been adopted in a great many Schools with decided approbation, and having been stereotyped is free from the danger of having any alterations made in it, which is the greatest trouble with all school books
Those connected with schools or interested in any manner are requested to call and examine it

ARRANGEMENTS OF THE KENNEBEC AND BOSTON STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY 1837

THE superior Steam Packet NEW ENGLAND, Nathaniel Kimball Master, will leave Gardiner every MONDAY and FRIDAY, at 3 o'clock, P. M. and Bath at 6 o'clock P. M.

Leave Lewis's Wharf, Boston, for Bath and Gardiner, every WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY, at 7 o'clock, P. M.

Carriages will be in readiness to take passengers to and from Hallowell, Augusta and Waterville on the arrival of the Boat, and on the days of her sailing.

Hack fare from Augusta 37½ cts.; from Hallowell 25 cents. Books kept at the principal Hotels in Hallowell and Augusta.

FARE.

From Gardiner to Boston, $4 00
" Bath " " $3 50 } And found.
Deck Passengers, $2 00

The NEW ENGLAND is 5½ years old 173 feet long, and 307 tons burthen. During the past winter she has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, and the proprietors have spared neither pains nor expense to render her in all respects worthy of public confidence. That she is the fastest boat on the eastern coast is now universally admitted, and her superiority as a sea-boat has been fully proved.

Travellers from the eastern part of Maine to Boston and from Boston eastward, will find this route in many respects preferable to any other. The mail stages from Bangor and Belfast arrive before the departure of the boat; and the boat arrives at Gardiner on her return passages from three to six hours before the departure of the eastern stages; thus affording travellers an opportunity of spending several hours in Gardiner, Hallowell and Augusta.
